Your BEAUTY GURU

ElisabethConcept is a completely new idea for Lanzarote – a professional service that will provide you with knowledge and advice that will last you for the rest of your life.

Every one of us must have, at some time, wished for the sort of objective, practical information that will allow us to make the right clothes, hair, make-up and accessorizing decisions. That was exactly the idea Lisa Clancy, a master hairdresser from Munich, had when she set up ElisabethConcept. With plenty of experience in the beauty business, Lisa realized she could give her customers much more than treatments – she could provide the knowledge and the resulting confidence that would allow them to make their own decisions, for the rest of their lives.

Lisa realized that inner confidence is every bit as important as external beauty, and works on the basis that with information and organization, you can look great at all times. With this in mind, ElisabethConcept offers a variety of modules, each of which will leave you with hugely valuable knowledge about your own look that will save you time and money in the future while ensuring you look your very best at all times. For newcomers, Lisa recommends the Colour Analysis modules, where your personal colour scheme is identified and your primary and secondary colours recommended. There'll be valuable advice on coordinating these colours and matching with jewellery and accessories. This knowledge can then be used in a further module on make-up and hair. "The right colours can give you real presence, and make sure everyone knows you are there," says Lisa.

These are just two of the more than 14 modules offered by Lisa and her two colleagues. Others include Styling – a session which will make sure your future shopping choices are wiser and more suitable; Hair, Make-Up, Being Fashionably Organised and Skin Care. Other modules are more specific, helping you choose the right glasses, beachwear, shoes or wedding outfits. Modules are also available for teenagers, giving young women confidence and expertise that will shape their adult lives, and Lisa also has dealt with a number of extremely satisfied male customers. "I'm not a stylist, nor a personal shopper," says Lisa, "I'm more of a guide." The testimonials she has received from customers bear her out – this is one business where Lisa isn't looking for repeat custom – each module should suffice for life, but many satisfied and thankful clients have remained in touch.

Located in the sumptuous surrounding of the Hotel Princesa Yaiza in Playa Blanca, Lisa has already discovered that Elisabeth Concept is ideal for tourists with just a week or two on the island. It's just as handy for resident, and the modules would also make the absolutely perfect wedding, birthday or Christmas gifts.
